Checklist for Transfer Students

Information and research

1. Researching alternative academic disciplines/universities and gathering information
   - Researching the range of degree programs offered all over Germany: hochschulkompass.de/en/study-in-germany.html
   - Degree programs at the University of Bonn: uni-bonn.de/en/studying/degree-programs
   - Examination and study regulations: uni-bonn.de/en/studying/degree-programs/regulations_overview
   - The academic departments often provide module guides and study schedules on their websites

2. Looking into latest admission restrictions (with/without admission restrictions) and applicable admission procedures for your chosen academic disciplines at the time of your planned transfer
   - Degree programs at the University of Bonn (admission restrictions and limits): uni-bonn.de/en/studying/degree-programs
   - Dialog-Oriented Service Procedure (DoSV) and Central Admission Procedure (ZV): hochschulstart.de
   - For transfers to other universities, check target university websites

3. Research application and enrollment periods

   - If your target academic discipline is subject to admission restrictions, you will always need to file an application, even if you are only transferring to another program option.

Recognition of academic achievements and application

4. Recognition of course work and examinations
   - Print a transcript of records (record of completed course work and examinations) for your current academic discipline (from BASIS) and have it certified by the responsible examination authority / subject-specific study advisory service for your current academic discipline: uni-bonn.de/en/studying/consultation-and-service/examination-authorities
   - Obtain a placement recommendation / certificate of recognition by presenting your transcript of records to the examination authority / subject-specific study advisory service for your target discipline (at the target university): uni-bonn.de/en/subject-specific-study-advisory-service
   - Where coursework and examinations are recognized, the examination authority issues a certificate of recognition.
   - We recommend that you verify the recognition of coursework and examinations even if you plan on transferring to the same academic discipline at another university – academic disciplines may cover different content despite having the same designation.
   - In most degree programs, you must inform the examination authority about failed examinations and failed final attempts at examinations in the academic discipline at hand or an academic discipline with substantial similarities in content upon enrollment and/or registration for the bachelor’s/master’s examination or a module examination.
   - In case of transferring to another university, the target university may request a certificate of good standing from your current university.

5. Applying for the target academic discipline
   - At the University of Bonn, you may apply for the first or a higher program-related semester, provided that you have obtained a relevant placement recommendation / certificate of recognition. This may increase your chances of being admitted.
   - Applying for the first program-related semester (placement in higher program-related semester possible if certificate of recognition is presented): uni-bonn.de/en/studying/application-admission-and-enrollment/application-guide

Notes on BAföG

- Transferring to another academic discipline or university may impact the amount and term of your BAföG grant. A one-time transfer to another academic discipline within the first three program-related semesters is usually possible without losing entitlement to your grant. Please be sure to contact the BAföG Office in good time to discuss your individual situation: studierendenwerk-bonn.de/en/financing/
- Transferring to an academic discipline in the third program-related semester requires a written statement providing important reasons for the transfer.
- When transferring in the fourth or a higher program-related semester, you will usually only continue to be entitled to your grant if you transfer on imperative grounds (i.e. an occurring disability/illness due to which you are unable to continue your studies and/or take up your aspired career).
- In case of additional transfers for important reasons, your studies may no longer be eligible for full financial support in the form of a financial allowance (“Zuschuss”) or interest-free government grant (“zinsloses Staatsdarlehen”). In any case, you will need to submit a written statement providing an important reason for additional transfers.
- Changing program options (e.g. from the Dual-Subject to the Major and Minor option in a bachelor’s degree program) may be considered a transfer as well.
- The legal basis is established in the Federal Training Assistance Act (Bundesausbildungsförderungsgesetz), § 7 para. 3.
- The AStA at the University of Bonn offers legal advice: asta-bonn.de/Rechtsberatung
