The Land Economics Group of Prof. Dr. David Wuepper at University of Bonn is inviting applications for a

Student Assistant (f/m/d) (Dataset Prep)

We are looking for a Master student enrolled at a German University, working up to 8 hours per week.

Work Description:
- Preparation of datasets according to current research needs, e.g. compiling and synthesizing an overview of policies and reforms

Your profile:
- Enrolled as a student (Master) at a German University;
- Working knowledge of R and/or Stata;
- Working knowledge of English

What we offer:
- Integration in high-profile, high-impact, interdisciplinary research projects, contributing towards evidence-based policy recommendations to tackle global land degradation;
- Training/mentorship
- Flexible working hours;
- Possibility of combining the Student Assistant position with a master thesis project

We look forward to receiving a max.1-page cover letter (that includes your motivation for the position, relevant courses you took, and key skills) as well as your CV via email to: a.schioppa@ilr.uni-bonn.de