The University of Bonn is an international research university with an excellent reputation offering a broad range of subjects. Some 38,000 students and more than 6,000 employees study and work on the foundation of a 200-year tradition. Awarded the status of a University of Excellence, the University of Bonn is one of the leading universities in Germany and enjoys an excellent international reputation.

By April 1, 2022 the central administration of the Department of Geography is looking to fill the permanent position of

Research Associate (50%)

The Department of Geography has more than 200 employees in total. Its 12 professors are supported by the Department’s administration. The position involves a teaching load of 4 course units per week, forms part of the administration and will primarily support activities in the field of geomatics.

Your tasks:

- Coordinating the projects and activities of the Center for Remote Sensing of Land Surfaces (Zentrum für Fernerkundung der Landoberfläche, ZFL), incl. support with securing project funding and with project implementation,
- Managing research data for the Department of Geography in cooperation with the USL Research Data Service Center; support for academic work groups,
- Conceptualizing and coordinating the Geomatics Study Workshop and providing support for the tutorial,
- Teaching of courses in quantitative methods training, in particular GIS in German and English,
- Supervising final theses.

Your profile:

- University degree in the field of geography/GIS/remote sensing and relevant doctorate in geography,
- Experience in methodical training of geography students at the interface between remote sensing, GIS and statistics,
- Experience in research data management and very good knowledge of digital infrastructures,
- Extensive project management skills and experience, ideally with skills in SAP,
- Confident and service-oriented team player,
- Motivated, flexible personality and good social skills,
- Very good German and English language proficiency.

We are looking for a dedicated and stress-resilient candidate who is prepared to take over diverse and changing administrative tasks at the Department.

We offer:

- A varied, challenging job with one of the largest employers in the region
- Occupational pension (VBL),
- Many options available for university sports,
- Excellent access by public and private transport and the opportunity to buy a Large Employer Ticket for the VRS public transport network or take advantage of low-cost parking,
- Remuneration in accordance with TV-L pay grade 13.
The University of Bonn is committed to diversity and equal opportunity. It is certified as a family-friendly university. The University of Bonn seeks to increase female representation in staffing areas where women are underrepresented and provide special career support. To this end, the University of Bonn strongly encourages applications from qualified women. Applications will be handled in accordance with the NRW State Gender Equality Act. Applications from qualified candidates with a certified severe disability or from those of equal status are especially welcome.

If you are interested in this position, please send your application as a single PDF file, indicating reference number 26.21.331, by email to shock@uni-bonn.de. Deadline for applications is 01/15/2022.