

Dear students,

Summer is just around the corner and we at the Office of Family Services would like to tell you about some exiting opportunities that might be of interest to you and your families.

As always, please feel free to contact us if you have any further questions.

Have fun reading the newsletter!

Copyright: Uni Bonn/ Volker Lannert

Content overview

1. Your opinion is important to us!
2. Vacation care
3. Event recommendations

1. Your opinion is important to us!

Do you have any requests, suggestions, or feedback you'd like to share with the Office of Family Services? If so, please feel free to use our digital pinboard and give us feedback on our programs, events, or services.

Whether it's encouragement, ideas for new formats, or suggestions for improvement—we welcome your contributions. Of course, you can also submit your feedback anonymously.

Thank you for helping us further develop our services to meet your needs.

Here you can find the link to our Padlet.

Copyright: pixelz/ DS Stories

2. Vacation care

The summer break is just around the corner—and for many families, this means it's time to start thinking about childcare. Our tried-and-true summer program offers a varied and exciting lineup of activities throughout all six weeks of summer break, ensuring that children have a wonderful and eventful time.

There are currently still openings available for the first week of vacation; a few spots are also still available for the remaining weeks.

Please note that starting with the 2026 summer break, the parental fee for vacation care will increase to 90 € and to 45 € per week for siblings.

You can still register via the funtime portal.

Further information can be found on our website for vacation care.

Copyright: Uni Bonn/ Volker Lannert

3. Event recommendations

Jump in!

The Bonn Child Protection Association is celebrating its 60th anniversary this year—and families are welcome to join the celebration!

Two weeks ago, on the Corpus Christi holiday, children, teens, and families were able to visit Bonn's outdoor pools for free to mark the anniversary. Due to the great response, the event is now being repeated: On Sunday, June 21, anyone who missed the first date or needs to cool off again will have another chance to do so.

Tickets can be purchased as usual at the box office.

Grab a paintbrush!

The Kunstmuseum Bonn offers numerous workshops for families and children, where even the youngest visitors can discover the world of colors. Many of these events require admission tickets, which are available at the museum ticket office.

All necessary information can be found on the museum's website.

Copyright: pixel/ Markus Spiske

Let's head to the garden!

The Haus der Geschichte in Bonn has redesigned its museum garden and, since the beginning of the month, has opened it to visitors under the theme "Developments and Trends in German Garden Culture." With plenty of activities and play areas, as well as relaxing seating areas, the garden invites children and adults alike to learn about topics such as sustainable development and climate adaptation or to marvel at the garden's wildlife—either on their own or on a guided tour.

Admission to the garden, as well as to all other museum exhibitions, is free for everyone.

Further information can be found on the museum's website.

Flashlight on!

The LVR State Museum is looking for a new Night Guard – and you can help! In this exciting escape game, the goal is to restore order to the museum. To do so, participants must solve tricky puzzles within 60 minutes and travel through different times and eras.

The game is designed for children ages 6 and up accompanied by their parents, as well as puzzle enthusiasts ages 12 and up who want to tackle the challenge on their own. The escape game will be on display at the museum through August 30.

All information regarding the escape game as well as tickets can be found on the museum's website.

Note: If you no longer wish to receive our newsletter, please send an email to familienbuero@uni-bonn.de.

All information without guarantee.

19.06.2026