

The Department of Economics at the University of Bonn, Germany, invites applications for an Assistant Professorship in Econometrics, W1 with tenure track starting as soon as possible.

Formal requirements are regulated by §36 Higher Education Act of North Rhine-Westphalia (Hochschulgesetz des Landes Nordrhein-Westfalen).

The position is initially offered for a three year period and, subject to a positive mid-term evaluation, extended by another three years with the possibility of tenure with promotion to associate professor (W2), subject to a positive final evaluation. The teaching load generally corresponds to one course per semester. All teaching at the graduate level is conducted in English. Teaching at the undergraduate level can be conducted in English or German. Candidates are expected to teach theoretical econometrics at the Ph.D. level and must demonstrate a strong potential in methodological research in econometrics/statistics.

Please submit your application, including a CV, a research statement, transcripts, your job market paper, and 2-3 recommendation letters via the online portal:

<https://econjobmarket.org>

Applications received by November 20, 2023 are guaranteed full consideration.

Please note that applications will be forwarded to the appointment portal of the University of Bonn for further processing.

For further information, please visit www.econ.uni-bonn.de or contact Prof. Dr. Joachim Freyberger (freyberger@uni-bonn.de).

You will find the department's tenure-track criteria here:
<https://www.econ.uni-bonn.de/en/research/tenure-track-criteria>

The University of Bonn promotes the diversity of its members. It is certified as a family-oriented university and has a dual career program. Its aim is to increase the proportion of women in scientific staff and to promote their careers in particular. It therefore urges qualified women to apply. Applications are dealt with in accordance with the equal opportunity legislation. Likewise, the University encourages suitable people with proven impairment to apply.

