At the Faculty of Medicine of Rheinische Friedrich-Wilhelms-Universität Bonn, a

W2 professorship for anatomy with focus on neuromorphology is to be filled at the earliest possible date on a permanent basis.

The responsibilities of the professorship include providing appropriate representation of anatomy in research and teaching. The position is based at the Institute of Anatomy.

We are seeking an individual with special interest and experience in the field of neuromorphology and experience with ultrastructural and correlative methods. Expertise in the field of electron microscopy and interest in establishing and further developing modern light and electron microscopic methods is expected. The professorship should strengthen and further develop existing profile areas, priority areas and research networks of the Faculty of Medicine and the university. Excellent scientific achievements and third-party funding, as well as proven didactic skills are required.

The professorship provides for extensive involvement in student teaching in courses at the Faculty of Medicine (e.g., Human Medicine, Dentistry, Neurosciences) with emphasis on the field of macroscopic anatomy and neuroanatomy. Participation in continuing education courses on clinical anatomy is also desirable.

Employment requirements are a university degree, e.g. in medicine or natural sciences, pedagogical suitability and experience, and a special aptitude for scientific work. The prerequisite for employment is a habilitation or equivalent scientific achievement in accordance with Section 36 Higher Education Act NRW (Hochschulgesetz - HG NRW).

The University of Bonn is committed to diversity and equal opportunities. It is certified as a family-friendly university and has a dual career service. It aims to increase the proportion of women in areas where women are under-represented and to promote their careers in particular. It therefore urges women with relevant qualifications to apply. Applications will be handled in accordance with the State Equality Act of North Rhine-Westphalia (Landesgleichstellungsgesetz - LGG). Applications by suitable individuals with a certified severe disability and those of equal status are particularly welcome.
