At the Medical Faculty of Rheinische Friedrich-Wilhelms-Universität Bonn, a

W3 Professorship in Forensic Medicine (successor Prof. Madea)

is to be filled at the earliest possible date.

The professorship includes the management of the Institute of Forensic Medicine. The incumbent must represent the discipline in research, teaching, and forensic service. The assumption of the professorship is associated with the assumption and further development of teaching for the entire field of forensic medicine. Also expected is the further development of the research profile in forensic genetics, toxicology and imaging at the highest scientific level. The scope of the professorship includes performing forensic diagnostics and other forensic services in close cooperation with other departments of the University Hospital (e.g. pathology, radiology, human genetics, clinical chemistry, gynecology, epileptology), especially for the synergistic use of technologies and expertise.

Board certification (‘Facharzt’) in forensic medicine, relevant clinical forensic work experience, combined with in-depth knowledge of forensic morphology, molecular biology, and/or toxicology is expected.

Very good scientific achievements and experience in the acquisition of extramural third-party funds, proven didactic skills, as well as the ability to manage the institute economically are required. The scientific orientation should have ties to the focal points of the faculty, ideally to existing networks of the Medical Faculty and the university as a whole.

Requirements for employment are a completed medical university degree, habilitation or habilitation-equivalent achievements. Experience in teaching according to §36 Hochschulgesetz NRW is desirable.

The University of Bonn is committed to diversity and equal opportunity. It is a certified family-friendly university and has a dual career service. It aims to increase the proportion of women in areas where women are under-represented and to promote their careers in particular. It therefore urges women with relevant qualifications to apply. Applications will be handled in accordance with the State Equality Act of North Rhine-Westphalia (Landesgleichstellungsgesetz - LGG). Applications by suitable individuals with a certified severe disability and those of equal status are particularly welcome.

Qualified applicants are requested to apply via our online portal (https://berufungsportal.uni-bonn.de/openProcedureList.do). Applications can be submitted in German or English by August 14, 2022.
