Your responsibilities:

- the work entails teaching English to students with a high standard of fluency
- the language courses focus particularly on accuracy of usage
- good knowledge of phonetics and grammar is essential; experience in teaching introductory level courses in phonetics is highly desirable
- experience teaching writing courses
- team work is important, as many courses are taught as parallel courses
- in addition to teaching and marking duties, the successful applicant will be required to help set, invigilate and correct exams (also during semester break)
- the teaching load is 16 hours per week (8 hours p.w. part-time)
- total work load is 39.833 hours per week (19.9 hours p.w. part-time)

Your qualifications:

- you are a native speaker of English
- a postgraduate degree (e.g. an M.A.)
- a knowledge of German at an advanced level (university standard) is essential
- previous experience of teaching at a German university is highly desirable

We offer:

- a varied and challenging position with one of the biggest employers in the area,
- participation in the university-wide pension system (VBL)
- access to the extensive university sports program
- an excellent transport infrastructure with the opportunity to obtain a discounted employee ticket for public transportation (VRS) or to use assigned, affordable parking
- a salary based on the 13 TV-L scale

The University of Bonn is committed to diversity and equal opportunity. It is certified as a family-friendly university.
