

October 02, 2020 & two webinars	Transformational Leadership (On Site or Online)
Institution	Human Resource Development
Seminar language	English
Target group	Science: Postdoctoral Candidates, Research Managers, Junior Professors, Junior Research Group Leaders, Habilitands Administration: Junior Managers and Managers
Goals/Contents	This experiential and inspiring workshop explores some of the skills needed for taking a lead in the volatile, uncertain, complex world in which we live. It will catalyse your understanding of where and how you lead at the moment – with or without a formal leadership position. You will learn some simple and effective tools which help you to be a driver for positive change and transformation. You will explore your own leadership biography and will dive into key aspects of transformational leadership, such as how to motivate and to create vision, how to rapidly prototype, how to create common ground and how to actively collaborate. At the end of the workshop, you will design an own leadership project in which you want to take action and lead. In two webinar sessions (2 hrs each) after the workshop, you will be equipped with some additional tools and ideas and will be supported in your own leadership project.
