Studying at the University of Bonn

Britta Förster, M. A. | Central Study Advisory and Counseling Service (Zentrale Studienberatung)
Welcome Days at the University of Bonn
WHAT ARE WE TALKING ABOUT?

1. ‘STUDY CULTURE’
2. ORGANIZING YOUR STUDIES
3. COUNSELING & SERVICE
‘STUDY CULTURE’
Interactive education system

• Active learning attitude expected

• High level of autonomy & self-reliant studying expected
Research skills

• Critical selection, analysis & presentation of information

• Assessment of trustworthiness & relevance of sources (Internet sources in particular)

• Importance of transdisciplinarity
‘STUDY CULTURE’

Time management

• Daily / weekly workload not controlled by anyone

• Time management = one key factor for studying successfully
Attendance & active participation

- No universal compulsory attendance
- Attendance regulations announced in online course catalogue “BASIS” → basis.uni-bonn.de
Attendance & active participation

• ‘Qualification goal’ of a class often believed to be hardly achievable without regular attendance & active participation!

• Aim: Development of key skills
  → essential skills for future job
  → requires a high level of (inter)activity
Getting in touch with teachers/ instructors

• Via consultation hours

• Urgent questions can usually be asked after (or during) class

Check out departmental website(s) for contact information!
“Vorlesung”/ “Plenum” | Lecture

- Presentation of a particular topic
- Larger audience
- Little to no interaction between students and teacher/instructor
- Autonomous revision of a lecture expected
“Seminar” | Seminar

- Discussion on a specific topic led by teacher/instructor
- Limited number of participants
- Discussions & active participation expected
“Übung”/ “Tutorium” | Tutorial

- Training skills in preparation for an exam
- Intensive discussion & teamwork
- Practicing subject matters taught in lecture / seminar
s.t. ("sine tempore") = without time = at the stated time

c.t. ("cum tempore") = with time = 15 minutes later
Akademisches Viertel = “academic quarter of an hour”

→ Example:
10 s.t. = 10 am
10 c.t. = 10:15 am

→ Check course announcements in BASIS (online course catalogue)!
• Bachelor & Master degree programs consist of modules

• Usually exam at the end of each module

• Completion of a module:
  • ECTS credit points (usually called Leistungspunkte / “LP”)
  • Grade

→ Erasmus/ Global Exchange Program students may also attend separate courses (instead of complete modules) and gain ECTS credit points & grade
• Required modules / courses listed on your learning agreement

• Sometimes specific requirements or exams

• You may be allowed to take an exam in another form

→ Please talk to your (Erasmus departmental) coordinator or contact person about specific regulations beforehand. 😊

→ You may also approach your teacher/ course instructor in addition.
German grading scale

• 1,0 – 1,5 = “sehr gut”
• 1,6 – 2,5 = “gut”
• 2,6 – 3,5 = “befriedigend”
• 3,6 – 4,0 = “ausreichend”
• 5,0 = “nicht ausreichend” → failed
• List of your courses

• ECTS credit points

• Individual grades

→ Issued in English by your (Erasmus departmental) coordinator

Description:
Indigenous religions are both easy and hard to define. In one sense, they are easy to recognize in the long history of Western representations—for example, in art, comics, and film—that have created particular associations in the popular imagination, such as shamanic rituals, smoking peace pipes, and communicating with the spirit world. When one digs beneath the surface, however, Indigenous religions are hard to define for at least two reasons. First, they have largely been represented on outsiders’ terms throughout the long history of settler-colonialism and forced Christianization. In this sense, “Indigenous religions” is a relational concept that must be considered in connect to Christian cultures, including the particular forms of state secularism that are practiced in Canada and the United States. Second, as Suzanne Owen points out, many Indigenous communities reject the term “religion,” preferring terms like “spirituality” in order to distance themselves from organized forms of Christianity. What is more, many Indigenous communities view the relationship between culture, “spirituality,” and politics differently than is commonly understood in Euro-Western societies, and thus need to be considered on their own terms. This includes Indigenous forms of knowledge, which tend to stress the relationship between humans, animals, and the land over human-centred notions of progress and development. In this class, we will begin by looking at how Indigenousity has been defined by settler-colonial societies and how this has impacted the ways in which Indigenous communities have defined themselves. We will also explore “new age” appropriations of Native America spirituality, Native American forms of Christianity, as well as the growing resurgence in Indigenous forms of knowledge and practice that increasingly challenge Western notions of religion, science, and progress.

COUNSELING & SERVICE

Advising and Service

The University of Bonn offers a wide range of advising opportunities and services for you to use at all stages of university studies. Our advising and service network is here to help you with everything related to academic orientation, application and enrollment, degree progression, academic problems, personal challenges, stays abroad, and career counseling. These services are complemented by various student services bodies and the services of Studienberatung Bonn in the areas of funding, housing, and social affairs.

International Office

The University of Bonn’s International Office is the contact point for all issues related to international and intercultural programs and activities. How and when do I plan to stay abroad? What are potential destinations? How do I pay for everything and how do I prepare myself in the best possible way? Comprehensive counseling services are also available for international students to help them structure their studies in Bonn in the best possible way.

Advice and support from fellow students

Subject-Specific Study Advisory Services

The subject-specific study advisory services provide help with detailed questions concerning program contents and progress, modules, and examination regulations, and the opportunities for setting academic priorities during your studies. They are also the persons to contact if you want to discuss the possibilities of earning transfer credit for previous coursework and examinations before submitting your application.

Central Study Advisory and Counseling Service

The Central Study Advisory and Counseling Service (ZSB) guides prospective students through the process of gaining information and making decisions, offers advice on choosing a degree program and applying for admission, and helps new students get started at the University. For current students, it serves as a general resource providing guidance and support in periods of academic re-orientation and when students experience doubts about their studies or personal problems.

Student Registry

The Student Registry is responsible for handling applications, admissions, and enrollments. It manages leaves of absence, deregistrations, data changes, and semester fee payments as well as many other issues in student management.

Advice and support from fellow students

General Students’ Committee (ASvA)

Aside from representing students’ political interests, the General Students’ Committee is counseling and service. Their expertise covers a wide range of topics, such as financial aid (BAföG), advice for students with children, social and legal consultations, advice for international students, and advice for queer students. It is the place to go for help and advice on just about any issue.

Psychological Counseling

In personal meetings, you can obtain counseling – including preventive advice – regarding psychological concerns, insecurities or problems that can have a negative impact on your quality of life or academic success. Our counselors will help you develop new perspectives, your own constructive solutions and strategies to tackle challenges. If needed, we can also advise you on finding therapy and/or put you in touch with someone who will be able to help. In addition, you can take advantage of our group sessions, which focus on specific issues and target groups.
