International Graduate Schools and Doctoral Programs

Bonn International Graduate Schools

Bonn International Graduate Schools (BIGS) offer excellent doctoral programs conforming to the highest international standards. They provide graduate students with outstanding research conditions, access to international research partnerships and educational programs tailored to their needs. BIGS provide the best possible preparation to embark on a high-level career in research and beyond.

- Bonn International Graduate School of Mathematics
- Bonn Graduate School of Economics
- Bonn-Cologne Graduate School of Physics and Astronomy
- International Graduate School Life & Medical Sciences
- Bonn International Graduate School of Drug Sciences
- Bonn International Graduate School Oriental and Asian Studies
- Bonn International Graduate School of Neuroscience
- Bonn International Graduate School of Chemistry
- Bonn International Graduate School Clinical and Population Science

- Bonn International Graduate School Immunosciences and Infection
- Bonn International Graduate School for Development Research
